

LAWTUTORS ATTORNEY INSTRUCTOR JOB DESCRIPTION

Do you want to become an Attorney Instructor for LawTutors? LawTutors is Massachusetts' premier organization created for law and bar students. LawTutors was formed because personal attention is hard to come by in law school. The mission of LawTutors is to create a supplemental environment for law and bar students.

The Attorney Instructors' job is to meet with their student, assess what their individual needs are and develop a syllabus targeted specifically for them. Once their needs are assessed your job is to schedule meetings that works with both of your schedules, answer their questions and guide them through the materials you have assigned to help them understand the subjects they are struggling with.

Attorney Instructors at LawTutors have the freedom to choose from the abundant amount of materials we provide, and tailor them to their students' individual needs. Attorney Instructors also have the freedom to work with your student and make your own schedule, one that will work for both you and your student, deciding when and where you will meet to have your session. For our attorney instructors valuable time and knowledgeable instruction, we pay from $25/hour-$75/hour, based on a single, group or seminar rate.

Being an Attorney Instructor at LawTutors means not only that you will help law and bar students succeed, but you may also have the opportunity to speak at and/or sponsor events such as the ABA Student Conference. LawTutors' gets many invitations to events such as these and we extend these invitations to our Attorney Instructors. Because of these exciting opportunities, LawTutors has have many students referred to us by PMBR. Attorney's who not only want to teach, but to participate in the many growth opportunities LawTutors has to offer should definitely apply. Please note that the position as an Attorney Instructor at LawTutors is an Independent Contractor position.

To become a LawTutors Attorney Instructor, simply fill out the application form and send it to LawTutors. We will contact you ASAP to schedule an interview so you can begin your exciting job as a LawTutors Attorney Instructor!
